Morgenthaler, Frequency conversion of spin waves in pulsed magnetic fields, Applied Physics Letters 10, 184 (1967)], published more than 300 articles and book chapters individually or in collaboration with students and colleagues on a variety of phenomena and properties of magnetic materials. He has supervised more than 40 master's and doctoral theses and has written books on electronic materials and devices that are used in many physics and engineering courses around the world. His publications have had over 9,400 citations, resulting in an H-index of 53 in the Google Scholar database. His published books are (i) Sergio M. Rezende, Materials and Electronic Devices, Editora Livraria da Física (4th Edition, 2015); (ii) Sergio M. Rezende, Fundamentals of Magnonics, Lecture Notes in Physics 969 (Springer, Cham, 2020); and (iii) Sergio M. Rezende, Introduction to Electronic Materials and Devices (Springer, Cham, 2022). He was awarded the only scholarship granted annually in Brazil by the Fulbright Foundation for Engineering and Economics for graduate studies in the United States (1964). He received a scholarship granted by CAPES for the doctoral program at MIT (1965-1967), in addition to being a Fellow of the Guggenheim Foundation in the area of Physics (1975-1976)) Elected Full Member of the Brazilian Academy of Sciences (1977), received Medal "Order of National Educational Merit", from the Ministry of Education (1988), "Order of Scientific Merit-Grand Cross", granted by the President of the Republic (1995) , Anísio Teixeira Award, from the Ministry of Education, granted by the President of the Republic (2001), Bunge Prize for Physics and Engineering (2005). He is the only Brazilian awarded the "Outstanding American Physical Society Referees" (2009). He received the Science Award from the Conrad Wessel Foundation (2013) and the Joaquim Costa Ribeiro Award for Condensed Matter Physicist, Brazilian Society of Physics (2020).

Suzana Kahn Ribeiro. Mrs. Suzana Kahn Ribeiro holds a degree in Mechanical Engineering from the State University of Rio de Janeiro (1981), a master's degree in Energy Planning Program - COPPE/UFRJ (1988) and a doctorate in Production Engineering from the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (1995). She is currently a professor at the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro, Deputy Director of COPPE / UFRJ since July 2019. Director of the China Brazil Center since July 2019. Executive Coordinator of the Fundo Verde project at the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro. Member of the Brazilian Business Council for Sustainable Development (CEBDS). Member of the Board of the Museum of Tomorrow. Member of the Global Alliance of Universities on Climate (GAUC). Member of the advisory board of Vital Strategies since September 2021. Member of the Board of the Institute for Development and Management (IDG). Member of the Board of Directors of the Institute for Transportation & Development Policy (ITDP) since January 2022. Member of the International Bamboo and Rattan Organization since August 2022. Was IPCC bureau vice chair from 2008 to 2015; Undersecretary of State for the Environment of Rio de Janeiro (SEA) from 2010 to 2013; National Secretary of Climate Change and Environmental Quality from 2008 to 2010; Lead coordinator of the IPCC 6th Report chapter from 2018 to 2022; Coordinator of the Executive Graduate Program in Oil and Gas - MBP/COPPE from 1998 to 2020.
